Information System

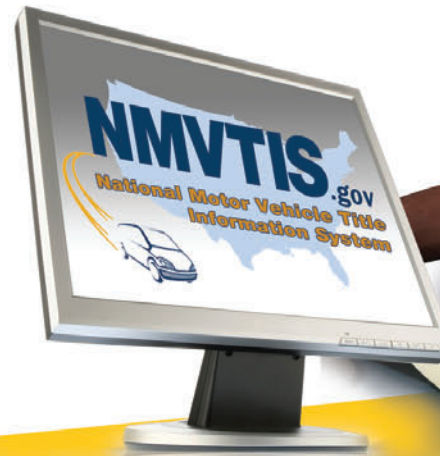

Reporting the VIN of all salvage and total loss vehicles to NMVTIS prevents fraud and theft and can protect families from unsafe vehicles.

You can make a difference.

Federal law requires that all auto recyclers (including all junk and salvage yards handling more than 5 cars per year) report the VINs of any salvage vehicle (including total loss autos) to the National Motor Vehicle Title Information System (NMVTIS) on a monthly basis. Multiple reporting options are available to make reporting possible by all auto recyclers. Each month, information about reporting recyclers is available on www.nmvtis.gov so that consumers and others know which recyclers are reporting.

How To Report Information to NMVTIS

Auto recyclers and insurance carriers report vehicle information to NMVTIS through authorized third-party data consolidators. A list of these consolidators and reporting requirements is available at www.nmvtis.gov. NMVTIS does not charge a user fee to entities reporting this data, however, some data consolidators may establish limited service charges in order to provide improved or additional services to reporting entities.

Failure to report to NMVTIS is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 per reporting violation.

To notify DOJ of an entity that is not currently reporting, e-mail nmvtis@usdoj.gov.
